

Sparkling entertainment at The Barn at Valley Farm House, August 31/Sept 1 2012

Jane & Adrian Stevensen invite you to join them as mtp with Connaught Productions for Frinton Summer Theatre present:

TOMFOOLERY

A first for the Barn, all the way from Frinton! The hysterical revue 'Tomfoolery', devised by Cameron Mackintosh and Robin Ray and with the words and music of comic genius (and Harvard Maths professor) Tom Lehrer. Caustic, witty and satirical, the show includes all your favourite songs, from Poisoning Pigeons in the Park to Smut, The Masochism Tango, and many, many more. The cast includes Madeleine Joseph, seen in the nationwide tour of By Jeeves! and Ben Stock, whose career includes major roles in many West End and touring musicals, not least in mtp's fiftieth anniversary tour of Salad Days. The Musical director is Tom Attwood, who appeared at the National Theatre and on Broadway in Alan Bennett's The History Boys - and more recently in The Habit of Art. 'Tomfoolery' is directed by rising star Tom Littler, posing the question; just how many Toms can be involved?
